You may notice some security cameras have been erected on the outside of our buildings as a way of detecting would be burglars.

(The photo below was not of two robbers)

General News

- Thanks to Tony & Robyn Fulton & Max Barry the new trousers have been set out in the club rooms together with costings. As well we have a range of the colour coordinated belts for $18.00 each. (see over for more)
- Annual subs are coming in and time is running out for all to become financial.
- The deadline for payment of the 50th Anniversary Dinner on 9/10/10 is 17th September 2010 and that is not far away. We still have room for a few more bookings, but hurry.
- The pamphlets for letter boxing are available just inside the main door. Take a few and have a pleasant walk in your street making deliveries. Please respect signs like 'no junk mail', even though we would consider these to be otherwise. Experience tells us that if you transgress their message they will quickly ring the club & complain.

Don't Monkey Around

Now that the new trousers are stating to be picked up some of us may find we have put on a bit of weight during winter, and some may have even taken some off. When we all get a chance to wear the new colour coordinated maroon bloomers we will notice the difference. All members are reminded that we expect matching underwear to be worn as well. (I lied about that). Can anyone tell us whether maroon socks will be in order to be worn?

Is Bucky still sunning himself in Queensland?

Your committee has worked hard to make sure the 50th Anniversary Dinner is a success. If we have to wait a further 50 years then only Jack Ellis, Jake Moate & Connor Hay will be still around to make sure the 100th Dinner is also a success.

Once we pass 17/9/10 seating arrangements will be made & final details of the night will be put in place.

I believe there are plenty of us looking forward to a decent feed!

Coming Events

- Thursday evenings at the club a meal will be available. We want this to become a regular event from now on. Come and join us.

The History of the Claremont Bowls Club

Part Two: "It was pointed out that the first steps required were to appoint a committee and draw up rules for the new club. This was done immediately with Mr. A Rothwell appointed president and an examination of the golf club rules indicated that these were suitable for the following by the bowls club. A few minor amendments only were needed. To ensure that an experienced person be available to interpret these rules it was decided that future bowls club committees would be represented by at least one registered golfer. Whilst fixing the rules to incorporate this requirement the opportunity was taken to also include a proviso that at least two Cadbury employees form part of the committee.

The president of the STBA mentioned that in the majority of cases in the formation of a new bowls club, it was usual for the first year to be spent in learning the game before playing competitively. In the case of Claremont however, a few of those persons active in getting the club started had some bowls experience and were anxious to become competitive to maintain interest. Despite being in the minority their views were accepted, an application was prepared for submission to the STBA for a side to be entered in the "C" Grade and this was granted despite some opposition from established clubs.

We thank Dudley Coleman his fine work in our history.

More about the history of Cadburys Estate

Just before WW1 Brighton Army camp was moved to what is now known as Cadbury's Estate. The reason may have been lack of water at Brighton or maybe Claremont was nearer to Hobart and the shipping lanes.

Bowls Biz

- New Uniforms. They are all out in the club rooms and we wish members to pay and pick up ASAP. If you have any queries the only person to contact is Tony Fulton. If you did not order in the first place the Hobart Indoor Centre have the maroon trousers. If you bring the receipt and hand to Treasurer Mike Quinn he will arrange a $20 refund. (this is only for one pair of the new designs). Some problems have ben noticed with the new maroon belts– they are smaller than the size suggests. Once the wearable ones are bought Tony may have to look at some lengths of maroon rope.
- Please wear the new uniforms at Opening Day on 11/9/2010
- Cam Tegg has been selected in the Australian Indoor (carpet) team and will represent our country in May in New Zealand. Hope he gets used to 'Fush 'n Chups'.

Can anyone tell us what Trevor and Graham are doing in the ladies rest room, please let us know.
